

PRESS RELEASE

IT Live Roadshow launched at Cisco Bedfont Lakes' office.

One Bus. Three Dates. Three Locations.

19th June, 2009 - ONI, Telephonetics VIP and Cisco take to the road to showcase the latest technologies in Unified Communications and Speech Self Service solutions. This is the first time ONI, Telephonetics VIP and Cisco have come together to help customers understand true business transformation.

Cisco Network on wheels is a 25' van equipped with the latest Cisco networking technologies. It has been fitted to create a mobile solutions showcase, so businesses can see a range of communication and Speech Self Service technology in action.

There are three dates and three locations, The Belfry Birmingham 30th June, Newmarket racecourse 2nd July and The Kendleshire Golf club, Bristol 7th July 2009, to find out more go to <http://www.telephoneticsVIP.co.uk/events>. The day will be educational and will give businesses such as Housing Associations, Financial Services, Retail, Manufacturing and more the chance to pick up hot tips on how to achieve customer service excellence, greater productivity and how to reduce operating costs.

Kevin Kivlochan, Sales and Marketing Director for ONI, comments "IT Live Roadshow 2009 is the first of its kind and should most definitely not be missed. We have teamed up with two of our top Partners, Cisco and Telephonetics VIP to bring innovative technology that you can see working live, and give businesses ideas and tips on how to work smarter and more efficiently."

Mark Holmes, Director of Sales for Telephonetics VIP, comments "This is a great opportunity for businesses interested in, or wanting to learn more, about our Speech Self Service solutions and how we can help add value while reducing operational costs. Our Partnership with ONI gives customers the chance to see a wide range of communication solutions working and integrating together providing businesses a true one-stop-shop solution."

David Critchley, Director, Commercial & Small Business for Cisco, UK and Ireland comments "In today's economy it is even more important for businesses to look at new ways of conducting business to help drive customer service, greater productivity and cost reduction.

The roadshow will allow customers to see how technology can help transform business processes by leveraging the power of the network."
